INDEX TO VOLUME 47

1965

SUBJECTS

Agricultural Policy

General

- Changes in the income distribution in agriculture, 1213
- Farmers' perception of the farm problem, 1190
- Impact of government price and income programs on farm income distribution, 1225
- Public investment in agricultural research and education: some comments, 1020
- Role of agriculture in economic development—a review, 120
- Some observations of an ex-economic advisor: or what I learned in Washington, 447
- Strategy for agriculture in development, 365

Agrarian reform and development

- Land reform under the alliance for progress, 652
- Rates of growth in food requirements during economic development, 1208

International

- Agricultural economics and technical aid in foreign development, 1079
- United Nations, agriculture and the world economic revolution, 889

National

- Benefits of agricultural marketing research, 36
- Benefits of farm programs: incidence, shifting, and dissipation, 1252
- Comparative resource, productivity, and income effects of Canadian and United States farm policies, 1130
- Costs and returns from farm price supports: some United States—Canadian comparisons, 1140
- Effects of government programs on southern cotton production since 1945, 1160
- Farmer participation in the social security program, 813
- Geographic distribution of research costs and benefits, 234
- Government grain programs of

Canada, Australia, Japan, and the United Kingdom, 993

- Government purchase of crop limiting easements, 60
- Implications of alternative cotton acreage allotment levels, 1203
- Policy problems of U. S. agriculture: a political scientist's view, 1091
- Political pressures and income distribution in agriculture, 1245
- Present and prospective policy problems of U. S. agriculture: as viewed by an economist, 1116
- Public land policy review offers challenge to land economics research, 148
- Responses of rice farmers to package program in India, 256
- Social cost of the tobacco program, 242
- State variations in farm program payments, 222
- Swedish agricultural policy since World War II, 1009
- Area planning*
 - Area development: observations on a failure, 468
 - Economic effects of taking parts of farms for flood-control reservoirs, 1474
 - Input-output model and regional water management, 1583
 - Input-output models and benefit-cost analysis in water resources research, 1572
 - Leakages reducing employment and income multipliers in labor-surplus rural areas, 1197
 - Prospects for southern cotton production and its place in the regional economy, 1175
 - Rural development through regional planning in Israel, 634

Agricultural Products: Supply, Demand and Prices

General

- Effect of length of run on measured demand elasticities, 774
- Producer response to technological change in West Pakistan, 625

Rates of growth in food requirements during economic development, 1208

Relationship of direct price flexibilities to direct price elasticities, 789

Livestock and livestock products

Appropriate methods for estimating the short-run elasticity of supply for milk, 840

Corn-hog ratio is poor indicator of hog profits, 467

Dynamic long-run model of the livestock-feed sector, 1288

Impact of beef imports on the U. S. beef industry, 1594

Negotiated pricing of fluid milk: role of federal orders and influence on pricing policies, 1386

On the distribution of price changes at a bull auction, 1306

Price elasticities of demand for beef, pork, and broilers, 793

Procedure for separating total reported milk supplies into components, 284

Short-run elasticities of supply for milk, 93

Field crops

Demand for U. S. soybeans in the European common market, 979

Implications of alternative cotton acreage allotment levels, 1203

Pricing in Kentucky fertilizer markets, 296

Prospects for southern cotton production and its place in the regional economy, 1175

Horticultural crops

Analysis of Bartlett pear prices, 1278

Other products

Cocoa: a study of demand elasticities in the five leading consuming countries, 1950-1961, 410

Convenience foods: the relationship between sales volume and factors influencing demand, 1391

Economic analysis and African responses to price, 402

Supply functions for Ghanaian cocoa, 1946-1962, 384

Marketing and Distribution of Agricultural Products

General

Benefits of agricultural marketing research, 36

Economic implications of market orientation, 421

Managerial factor and research on decision making in agricultural marketing firms, 23

Marketing costs and margins: current use in agribusiness market-structure analysis, 1352

Marketing costs and margins: new perspectives in a changing economy, 1366

Processing

Optimum plant numbers and locations for multiple product processing, 287

Transfer cost concavity in Stollsteimer's plant location model, 470

Transport

Alternative formulations of the transportation problem, 763

Further case for unregulated truck transportation, 933

Price stabilization

Surplus disposal and supply control: a comment, 153

Retail markets

Competition in food retailing, 1323

Concentration in food retailing, 1332

Marketing institutions

Adjustments by local livestock marketing agencies to packers-and-stockyards regulations, 1395

Competition in the affluent society, 433

Market structure research—how and for what?, 465

Method of comparing contract proposals for broiler chicken production, 973

Negotiated pricing of fluid milk, On the distribution of price changes at a bull auction, 1306

Short-run price effects of a structural change in a terminal market for hogs, 803

Some structural characteristics of the Venezuelan milk industry, 132

International Trade

Demand for U. S. soybeans in the European common market, 979

U. K. grain agreement: format for an international grain agreement?, 51

Finance and credit

Factors related to farmers' use of credit: least-squares analysis of sample survey data, 1468

Economics of Production

General and theoretical

Adjusting dynamic models to improve the predictive ability, 963
Aggregation bias and four methods of summing farm supply functions, 696

Allocating farm resources between farm and nonfarm uses, 83

Alternative programming models involving uncertainty, 595

Changes in the income distribution in agriculture, 1213

Comparative resource, productivity, and income effects of Canadian and United States farm policies, 1130

Contribution of economic classification of farms to understanding of American agriculture, 1545

Dynamic long-run model of the livestock-feed sector, 1288

Estimation and aggregation of firm supply functions, 701

Farm labor-income numbers game, 1022

Fertilizer supply and grain production in Communist China, 915

Geographic distribution of research costs and benefits, 234

Impact of outmigration and multiple job-holding on farm income distribution, 1235

Income structure of U. S. farms by economic class, 207

Operations research techniques in farm management: potential contribution, 1418

Operations research techniques in farm management: survey and appraisal, 1400

Problems and limitations due to criteria used for economic classification of farms, 1555

Problems relating to criteria for classification of farms, 1565

Production response of rice farmers in Nigeria, 900

Relation between the pattern of use and the future output from a flow resource, 311

Selection of representative benchmark farms for supply estimation, 681

Structure and productivity of Brazilian agriculture, 347

Land and water

Economic effects of taking parts of farms for flood-control reservoirs, 1474

Input-output model and regional water management, 1583

Input-output models and benefit-cost analysis in water resources research, 1572

Land values and agricultural income: paradox?, 1265

Market mechanism, externalities and land economics, 542

Labor

Impact of outmigration and multiple job-holding on farm income distribution, 1235

Leakages reducing employment and income multipliers in labor-surplus rural areas, 1197

Potential labor mobility in agriculture, 74

Capital

Optimal replacement under risk, 324

Industrial inputs

Producer response to technological change in West Pakistan, 625

Organization and management

Allocation efficiency in a traditional Indian agriculture, 611

Inventory models to determine feed reserves for beef cattle, 948

Management factor in commercial agriculture: effect of off-farm management inputs, 1443

Management factor in commercial agriculture: how can it be improved?, 1446

Management factor in commercial agriculture: how can it be recognized?, 1437

Management factor in commercial agriculture: how can it be taught?, 1449

Management factor in commercial agriculture: influence of values and goals, 1440

Management factor in commercial agriculture: is it an art or a science?, 1433

Management factor in commercial agriculture: new tools for the manager, 1452

Simulation: a tool for farm planning under conditions of weather uncertainty, 574

Use of simulation in evaluating management policies under uncertainty: application to a large scale ranch, 557

Farm crops

Allowing for weather in crop production model building, 270

Probability distribution of field crop yields, 713

Stochastic fertilizer production functions for continuous corn, 105

Livestock and livestock products

Corn-hog ratio is poor indicator of hog profits, 467

Labor productivity in beef slaughter plants, 1457

Maximum profit livestock rations that include wheat, 669

Education and Training

General

A look at the future of agricultural economics, 1510

Agricultural economics in the decade ahead, 521

Agricultural economics is an inexact science, 849

Agricultural economics: predictive or prescriptive, 852

Appraisal of a critical appraisal, 843

Author's last word—for now, 854

Basic research in a quasi science, 846

Critical appraisal of agricultural economics in the mid-sixties, 1

Current status of agricultural economics as a science, 844

Is agricultural economics a science?, 848

On classifying our kind, 464

Public investment in agricultural research and education: some comments, 1020

Reflections on the twelfth IAAE conference, 1026

Science, art, and agricultural economics, 851

Should universities have a monopoly on brains?, 463

What did our readers mean?, 150

What do our readers want?, 151

Formal education

Desirable requirements for graduate students not specializing in quantitative techniques, 1486

Desirable requirements for graduate students specializing in quantitative techniques, 1479

Foreign language requirements in Ph.D. programs in agricultural economics, 529

Limitations of mathematical methods, 152

Mathematics and statistics in graduate agricultural economics training, 189

Reflections on teaching and learning in colleges of agriculture, 17

Teaching problems in a growing department of agricultural economics abroad, 1504

Training in mathematics and statistics for agricultural economists: have we gone too far?, 1497

Training of Asian agricultural economics graduate students in the United States, 1024

Advisory work

Closer cooperation between research and extension, 834

Economics education for marketing firms, 1018

Evaluating agricultural economics extension teaching, 824

Extension education with marketing firms, 1515

Management factor in commercial agriculture: how can it be taught?, 1449

Tensions between research and extension workers—three hypotheses, 838

Rural Sociology

General

Farmer participation in the social security program, 813

Farmers' perception of the farm problem, 1190

Management factor in commercial agriculture: influence of values and goals, 1440

Adoption of innovations

- Responses of rice farmers to package program in India, 256

Research Methods and Techniques*General*

- Joint use of different sampling frames, 1534
- Limitations of mathematical methods, 152
- Mission oriented research, 462
- New area sampling frame and its uses, 1524
- On estimating the transition probabilities of a Markov process, 742
- Significance levels—0.05, 0.01, or?, 1381

Agricultural policy

- Social cost of the tobacco program, 242

Agricultural products: supply, demand and prices

- Appropriate methods for estimating the short-run elasticity of supply for milk, 840
- Procedure for separating total reported milk supplies into components, 284

Marketing and distribution

- Alternative formulations of the transportation problem, 763
- Managerial factor and research on decision making in agricultural marketing firms, 23
